

1:1

[1-2] Jude – of Jesus Christ, a servant,
 [3-5] and brother of James, to (those) who – in God, (the) Father, (are) having been loved, and in Jesus Christ, (are) having been kept – (are) called
 [6-8] mercy, to you, and peace and love, be multiplied!
 [9-10] beloved, all zeal working, to write to you concerning our common salvation –
 [1-2] necessary, I hold (it), to write to you
 [3-4] exhorting, to rigorously-defend,
 [5] the once-for-all having been delivered-over to the saints, faith
 [1-2] for (there) have entered-secretly, certain-ones, men, who long-ago were having been written-beforehand to this judgement
 [3-4] (the) ungodly who, of our God, (the) grace, are perverting into sensuality
 [5-7] and our only Master and Lord – Jesus Christ – are denying
 [1-2] and to remind you, I intend –
 [3] (your) having known all (things) –
 [1]* that (the) Lord – once-for-all, a people from (the) land of Egypt, having saved –
 [8] the second, who were not believing –
 [2] He destroyed
 [3] and angels who were not keeping their own realm
 [4] but were leaving their own abode
 [5-6] unto judgment of (the) great day – in chains, eternal – under thick-darkness, He has kept
 [9-10] like Sodom and Gomorrah –
 [1] and the, around them, cities – the similar manner to those, living immorally
 [2-3] and departing after flesh, other – serve (as) an example of fire,
 [4] eternal: justice, suffering
 [5] likewise, nevertheless also these, dreaming –
 [6] flesh, indeed, they defile
 [7] and authority, they reject
 [8] and majesties, they blaspheme
 [7-] but Michael, the Archangel –
 [9-10] when the Devil, disputing, argued concerning Moses' body
 [-8] did not presume, a judgment, to pronounce, of blasphemy
 [9] but he said
 [10] let (there) rebuke you, (the) Lord!

This is a translation and a study of the Book of Jude. This work presents the possible presence of a literary numbering system in Jude. Following the PebbleCounting hypothesis, this numbering system appears to be inherent in the Ancient Greek and consistently used throughout Jude, as it is in other books of Scripture.

This study is freely available at www.pebblecounting.com, along with studies/translations of other books of Scripture. If you haven't had a chance, the "Intro to PebbleCounting" PDFs are a good place to begin.

© Steve, 2024-2026. Update: May 18, 2026.

“the Lord – once-for-all, a people... having saved – the second, who were not believing, He destroyed” | Jude uses “once-for-all” to denote God’s saving work and “the second” to denote His judgment. These sequential adjectives may be intended to parallel the first and second comings of Jesus. See remarks below about Jesus’ second coming, for judgment at the end of the age, in connection with Enoch’s prophecy.

[1-2] but these, as much as, indeed, they do not know, blaspheme
 [3] and as much as – naturally, like the irrational animals, they know –
 [4] by these, they are destroyed
 [5] woe (be) to them!

[1] because, in the way of Cain, they have gone
 [2] and in the delusion of Balaam's wages, they have been poured out
 [3] and in the rebellion of Korah, they have perished
 [4] these are the – in your love-feasts, reefs
 [5] feasting-together fearlessly
 [6] themselves, shepherding
 [7-8] clouds, waterless, by winds being swept away
 [9-10] trees, autumnal –

[1-2] fruitless, twice having died
 [3] having been uprooted

[4-5] waves, wild, of the sea, producing-foam, which (is) their own shameful-deeds

[1-2] stars, wanderers, for whom the gloom of the darkness, to eternity, is kept

[4-5]* but (there) prophesied also to these – seventh from Adam – Enoch, saying

[1-2] behold, (there) comes, (the) Lord with His saints, myriads, to do justice against all
 [3] and to convict every soul:

[3] concerning all the deeds of their ungodliness which they lived-ungodly
 [4-5] and concerning all the severe (things) which, (there) spoke against
 Him, sinners, ungodly
 [6-7] these are grumblers, discontent
 [8] according to their own desires, going
 [9] and their mouth speaks boastful (things)
 [10] admiring face, of gain, for the sake of

[1-2] but you, beloved –

[3] (you) remember the words of the,

[4-5] having been spoken-beforehand by the apostles of our Lord, Jesus Christ –

[6] which they spoke to you

[1]* (that) at (the) last time (there) will be mockers
 [2] according to their own desires – going – of the ungodliness
 [3] these are the, causing-divisions
 [4] animal – (the) Spirit, not having

[7-8] but you, beloved, building-up yourselves in your most-holy faith

[9-10] in (the) Spirit, Holy, praying

“seventh from Adam” | Jude’s curious emphasis on the identity of Enoch as being “seventh from Adam” may reflect a sevenfold measure of the age. In combination with the singular instance of “day” in Jude (page above, “judgment of the great day”), the focus here may be upon the seventh day of the age. During the last of these sevenfolds – as it were, on Enoch’s watch – Jesus comes the second time, for judgment. This is Enoch’s prophetic horizon here: the second coming of Christ, for judgment.

“at (the) last time” | Jude appears to find fulfillment of this “last time” framework in his own day. The ungodly were abounding. Jude’s emphasis on the identity of these ungodly people appears to corroborate the arrival of the “last time.”

[1-2] yourselves, in love of God, (you) guard, receiving the mercy of our Lord,
[3] Jesus Christ, to life,
[4] eternal
[5-6] and (upon) those – indeed, show mercy – (who) are doubting
[7-8] and those, save – from fire, snatching-away
[9-10] and those, show mercy, with fear, hating even the –
                  [5] from the flesh, having been soiled, inner-garment
[4-5] now to (Him) being able, to keep you, free-from-offense
[1] and to present before His glory, spotless, with great-joy
[2-3] to (the) only God, our Savior –
[4-5] through Jesus Christ, our Lord – (be) glory,
[6-8]* majesty, power, and authority before all the age
[9-10] and now and to all the ages, amen!

1:25

---

|                       |           |
|-----------------------|-----------|
| Total Literary Count: |           |
| Heaven                | 25        |
| Saints                | 40        |
| Ungodly        | 55 |
| Total                 | 120       |